MEET SOUTH MELBOURNE

South Melbourne were in the same position as our visitors last Friday night having to suspend their CCSL start for the sake of the Socceroos.

Member Durakovic, Kevin Muscat, Jason Polak and Paul Wade were each a member of the squad chosen to meet Argentina.

The Blues were shock losers in the first round going down to the youthful Sydney United. Resuming their programme after the World Cup qualifiers they struck back winning 4 and drawing one of the next five games, scoring, 13 goals with 1 against.

In the two previous games between the clubs at Mitre 10 the Breakers have yet to be beaten winning inaugural game 3-1, last year the teams played out an uninspiring scoreless draw.

I feel sure there will be goals a plenty this evening, South Melbourne are the in form side of the competition and with the promise from Jim Foley of entertaining football everything adds up to a top game.

South Melbourne again have what it takes on paper. The signing of ex Breaker Jason Polak, Angie Goutzioulis (striker) and Ike Alagiozidis (mid fielder), they will again be candidates for end of season trophies.

Goutzioulis will have to be good if he is going to replace the likes of Awaritefe, Boutsianis or Paul Trimboli.

The signing of Polak will put further pressure on Socceroo Paul Wade, he could be found a place in the defence along side Durakovic and Muscat.

The Blues have extra talent on their books from a successful junior programme, Michael Valkanis is a name to remember.

While South Melbourne didn't make it last year you can take it as read that they will be a force to reckon with again in 1993/94.

The Breakers could at least give them something to think about as they leave Mitre 10 late tonight.

Breakers Youth take on Major Sponsor

We know what a good sponsor B.H.P. are but how good are they on the playing field.

With the youth team having two byes in their competition an opportunity was presented for a challenge game to be arranged, on Boxing Day, 26th December the early fixture will be played between B.H.P. and Breakers Youth.

I'm sure they will treat each other with due respect

HELPING HAND

The Breakers wish to thank those supporters who brought non perishable food items to aid the Samaritans in their Christmas Appeal.

There is still time for you to lend a helping hand by delivering much needed goods to the following address.....

Just over the bridge, but not far away.

Stockton Soccer Club believe they should be representing the north side by having a team in State First Division.

By developing teams in the N.N.S.W. State Junior League they are building a foundation on which to secure senior players for the future.

The club recently appointed Harry Westwood as coach of the U/19s. Trials have taken place but there are still opportunities for players wishing to play at Corroba Oval in 1994.

Selection trials for the U/13, U14, U/15 and U16 were held last Thursday but with Christmas, end of school formals and cricket being an attraction there is still a need for players.

For more details you can call Graham Parsons on 28 2853.

Last minute shopping

Breakers supporters can solve that last minute problem "what shall I buy him or her for Christmas?"

At the Breakers Supporters table you will find a selection of gear that will delight the keen supporter.

Prices are reasonable so why not dig deep and "do the right thing" you are supporting your team at the same time.

Many thanks

It is one of the most difficult tasks that the club has to under take, feeding the hungry army of supporters attending games at Mitre 10.

This season hasn't been without its problems, and a few of you are agreeing with me right now, power failers and mechanical breakdowns have frustrated the workers (voluntary) who only want to make you happy and produce some much needed funds for the club.

So when visiting the refreshment vans tonight please say thanks to the friendly staff for all their efforts.

The World Game

GAZZA

Lazio president Sergio Cragnotti has suggested that it's time Paul Gascoigne ended his ban on talking to the media. It started when they upset him by saying he was fat during pre-season training. His president says it has gone on long enough and I quote, "He really WAS fat and if anyone should have been upset, it was the club".

MICHAEL LAUDRUP

After 2 years at Lazio and 4 with Juventus Michael moved to Barcelona in 1989 fed up with the drudgeries that prevailed in Italian soccer at the time. In a recent interview he said that although technically Giovanni Trapattoni at Juve' was the best coach so far, at Nou Camp he has strengthened his belief that the paying public have more chance of seeing attractive football if the players are allowed to enjoy themselves.

Closer to home, maybe you don't have to change clubs, just coaches.

SCHUSTER

February 29th 1984 in a 1-0 win over Belgium was the last time Bernd Schuster played for his country, then West Germany. After several years in Spain with Barcelona, Real and then Atletico Madrid and falling out with German national managers Jupp Derwall and Franz Beckenbauer over his hesitance to travel home for national duties, Schuster is being mentioned as a strong contender for a place in the German USA 94 squad. At 34 and a revelation back in the Bundesliga with Bayer Leverkusen, the German press are demanding his inclusion in the national side!!

PETER REID

During his spell at Manchester City, Reid was well known among the press corp.. for phoning reporters, and telling them in basic English what he thought of reports he did not agree with.

Since his sacking, and so far as we know, none of the press boys have been cruel enough to point out that perhaps they were right, the results speak for themselves!!

Hunter United, celebrating 30 years of financial services

The pearl, is an apt 30th symbol. Nothing could be more appropriate for Hunter United. Just as a pearl grows to a gem from a tiny grain of sand, Hunter United grew from a small branch at BHP's Newcastle Steelworks 30 years ago to become the Hunter's largest locally owned credit union, building its reputation on value and service. Hunter United has historically provided its members with the lowest personal loan interest rates and the most competitive rates for investors. Free cheques, bill paying services, payroll deductions and a range of advisory services set Hunter United apart. And there's the convenience of a network of workplace and shopping centre branches throughout the lower Hunter.
